The most recent version of FIFA offers a new gameplay system to get players in the right place at the right time, with a faster, more balanced game experience and new features to match the most up-to-date gameplay standards. The new FIFA introduces key features such as: · New ball physics model. Fast and responsive ball movement thanks to an improved deformation model, thanks to which players have more freedom of movement and match ball behavior to their movement. · New behavior and decisions. Pass-through animations have been modified, with an increased speed and more realistic pass sliding effects, as well as improved interactions with the ball as well as the ballistics, resulting in an improved ballflight and more goals scored with a high-speed pass. The pace of the game has also been improved, with a higher frequency of player actions. · New offensive and defensive styles. Two new offensive styles have been added to the game: the classic off-the-ball style, and the "sledging" style, with players no longer using the pitch to arrive at a destination, but rather arriving quicker by running on the pitch. The defensive style has also been improved, with players using their body, hands and feet to block or tackle opponents in order to prevent goals. · New tactics. Improved AI in the game, allowing players to make smarter moves and decisions, including tactical team selection and formations

EASTERN EUROPE ARGENTINA 1. Corinthians : Corinthians are one of the biggest rivals to Boca Juniors so look out for Carlos Tevez's presence during the game. 2. River Plate : River Plate is one of Argentina's biggest clubs and with Messi as captain, they can score any time. 3. Estudiantes : Estudiantes are more of a team that play through the middle and do not have a good attacking game, but do have a good defensive game which is why they placed third last year. 4. Racing Club : Racing Club is a traditional Argentine club that plays a bit similar to Estudiantes but they do have Messi as a player. 5. Newell's Old Boys : Newell's Old Boys are one of the oldest clubs in Argentina so expect them to be second string at times but they are a good side, but if you're looking for an easy game, go elsewhere. BELGIUM 1. Anderlecht : Anderlecht just placed first in the league last season which is a great feat for the club. To me, Anderlecht are in a league of their own. 2. Club Brugge : Brugge is considered a big club in Belgium and I don't know how they had a second place finish last season but that's what it was. 3. Standard : This club is just a big joke in Europe for me. 4. Genk : Genk is considered to be one of the best teams in Belgium and they are considered by many to be the best team in Europe and I was going to say that Genk's massive 17 goals from midfield is crazy but they didn't score that much. 5. Club Brugge : This team is the clown of the league and they are the laughing stock of the league. I don't
